Research shows that eating plant-based wholefoods contributes to good health. And the more we eat plants and wholefoods instead of highly processed foods, the more likely we are to steer toward a long, healthy life.

Experts have theorized that getting a variety of foods from different food categories every day helps us get the micronutrients we need for health to align with USDA guidelines.

We set out to create a better greens product. One that works harder than the others and tastes delicious. Power Greens was formulated by Nature's Sunshine herbalists, scientists and health practitioners to provide a holistic superfood formula with clinically effective levels of nutrients you'll actually feel.*

Quality Assured:

Why Power Greens?

Our experienced artisans craft every small batch of Power Greens (less than 1500 pounds) weighing each ingredient by hand. This process takes place in our 100% solar-powered manufacturing facility.

This unique superfood formula features fibers recovered from fruits and vegetables that other manufacturers would throw away... like the pulp that remains after extracting the juice from an apple. And the best part? This pulp literally is the best part. It's loaded with nutrients that make Power Greens even more powerful.

Upcycling helps save an estimated $1 trillion in food waste annually and reduces the 70 billion tons of carbon dioxide that food waste would otherwise release into the atmosphere.

We don't guess...We test.

Every batch of Nature's Sunshine supplements undergoes rigorous quality testing in ISO-17025 certified labs, completely powered by the sun! We thoroughly examine all 50+ ingredients including every nourishing vegetable, every powerful adaptogen and every beneficial root. And for an added layer of security, we verify our results with third-party testing.

With 50+ years of experience, Nature's Sunshine delivers unrivaled quality. Guaranteed!
