

Digestive System Pack (30 days)
Stock #: K634078

Try our targeted supplements for improved digestive system health.

Digestive System Pack includes Proactazyme, Anti-Gas TCM and Bacillus Coagulans...providing herbs and nutrients to support the digestive processes so nutrients can be more readily absorbed to nourish the body.

Breaking food down into usable form requires digestive enzymes. Digestive enzymes bind with food particles to enhance the reactions necessary to turn solid foods into liquid solutions of nutrients to be absorbed in the intestinal tract and used by our cells. Enzymes have the capacity to process food at an amazing rate, making digestion infinitely more efficient. However, refined foods and overcooked foods contain minimal, if any, enzymes, which makes supplementation helpful to ensure optimal digestion.

The ingredients in this 30-day Digestive System program are formulated to maintain the healthy functions of the digestive system.*

Proactazyme facilitates digestion and improves nutrient absorption. This proprietary blend of fungi-sourced enzymes aid digestion and break down carbs, fats and proteins while fennel & ginger soothe the stomach.*

Anti-Gas TCM supports both the digestive and detoxifying functions of the body and supports the natural elimination of excess moisture, toxins and gas.*

Bacillus Coagulans is a shelf-stable probiotic conducive to the growth of friendly bacteria to help maintain a balanced gut microbiome. This unique probiotic strain, blended with prebiotics, helps defend against digestive upset and occasional diarrhea, gas and bloating.*

Benefits:

- Supports healthy digestion by breaking down all types of food
- May promote immune system health
- Supplies friendly bacteria to help rebalance the population of flora in the gut
